

Bay State College Retention Performance

The Student Right to Know Act requires all colleges and universities to post retention rates for all full time students who begin studies at their institution. Bay State College tracked the September 2010 new student cohort and their status one year later.

*Number of Students in the 2010 September Cohort:	352
Number of Students retained for September 2011:	192
Retention Percentage:	55%

For the 2010 cohort of new students to Bay State College, there were a total of 352 students enrolled for the Fall semester. The college retained 192 students as of September 2011 which resulted in a 55.0% retention rate.

* including first time and transfer students