The Student Right to Know Act requires all colleges and universities to post retention rates for all full time students who begin studies at their institution. Bay State College tracked the September 2011 new student cohort and their status one year later.

*Number of Students in the 2011 September Cohort: 341
Number of Students retained for September 2012: 201
Retention Percentage: 59%

For the 2011 cohort of new students to Bay State College, there were a total of 341 students enrolled for the Fall semester. The college retained 201 students as of September 2012 which resulted in a 59.0% retention rate.

* including first time and transfer students